

Here is your portfolio which is the route to you attaining Lantra's Blue Competence Card for Slinger Signaller.

The portfolio is based around 5 National Occupational Standards (NOS), some of which relate to general construction site working with some specific to slinging/signalling.

You should work through this at your own pace and can refer to your assessor at any time.

The portfolio is split into 4 sections intended to allow you to consider particular parts of your work; what you do when you first arrive on a site; preparing to work; carrying out the work activity and then completing the task and leaving site.

Each section will start with an overview of your experience.

You should consider your current and recent (say over the last 2 years) work experiences when completing your replies.

There will then follow questions where you need to insert comments in your own words – this can be done in writing or verbally. All questions should be attempted.

There is no right or wrong answer, but what you put will enable your assessor to see if you have the appropriate level of knowledge and understanding and in some instances, get an insight into the way you perform your practical working activities and see how that matches with the occupational standard expected of a competent worker.
